MUNDY

Recorded at a packed Vicar Street in October 2005, Live & Confusion CD/DVD distils the excitement and raw power of one of Ireland's foremost live performers that is the rarest of things for a live album.

The recording encompasses Mundy's 10-year, three-album career to date, and highlights his growth as a songwriter from the raw exuberance of 'To You I Bestow' to the timeless beauty of 'Raining Down Arrows'. The man christened Edmund Enright powers his way through his best-known and most loved material, from the driving rock of 'Sound Of Keys' to the emotionally taut, gut-wrenchingly delicate 'Linchpin'; the raucous singalong of 'Mexico' to the blistering 'Gin & Tonic Sky' and 'July'. Live & Confusion was released on May 26, 2006.

Since he first emerged from the Midlands, guitar in hand, in 1996 as a fresh-faced 20-year-old, Mundy has grown to become one of Ireland's favourite songwriters and one of the most accomplished live performers anywhere in Europe.
