

WHO LIVED WHERE IN LEIXLIP, 1850-1967

Who their landlord was; the area, if any, of their land, its worth and other observations

Compiled by John Colgan © 2008 johncolgan at iol.ie

'VALUATION LISTS' being mainly No 7, County Kildare, County Health District, Kidare, RD Celbridge No 1, ED Leixlip, aka

CANCELLATION BOOKS, LEIXLIP AND ENVIRONS

Compiled firstly from Griffith's Valuation, published 1851, and the series of Cancellation Books of the Valuation Office, Dublin. Changes made after 1967 are not recorded in this document.

Where the area is shown, it is rounded to the nearest whole number of acres. The valuation figure shown is usually that for the buildings alone; in most cases these comprise a house and 'offices' (=sheds, outside toilets, harness rooms etc). Guesstimates have been made in some instances where the exact year is unclear from the manuscript. Some cancellation books overlap a period of time. Occasionally different spellings of names may be used. In most cases where there are several checks on occupancy done in different assessments, only the starting a finishing years are shown. Where a 'new' occupier/lessor is shown, the previous occupier/lessor is presumed to have vacated the premises in the previous year. This need not be the case at all, as no data is available during the period between checks. It is possible for an occupier to come and go within such an interval without being detected by the valuation officer calling.

The Cancellation Books were recorded by door-to-door callers, enquiring off those who were present when they called. Sometimes the successor shares the same first and second name with the first such; there is no way of separating the two. Other apparent changes appear to arise when women tenants marry and use their new surname in a subsequent year. Other 'changes' of tenancy arise when the caller corrects a misspelt surname or adds a missing first name. The lessors may be regarded as guesstimates by the respondents. Indeed, if they were taken at face value, some would have very long lives indeed. However, one could frequently assume that their representatives were the lessors. When houses were demolished, classified as exempt or so ruinous as to be beyond occupation, they were either classified as 'ruins' or simply excised from the record. Unfortunately, the officers calling sometimes caused confusion by combining Lots or separating bits, often for a workman's house and site, from existing Lots; their methodology is inconsistent and occasionally ambiguous, as the same Lot no. may be used at a different time for a new property or, in some cases, different lot numbers are used for the same property by different callers. These records, below, include interpretations of same.

Some editing has been done, eg, citing the first and last years only of references rather than all such dates. The term LAP means that ownership in fee simple of the property was acquired from the landlord under one of the Land Acquisition Acts. To use the record it is advisable that (a) all spellings of a name should be tried and (b) having found a reference here, one checks the original manuscript.

Maps are available from the Valuation Office, Dublin, showing the boundaries of Lot numbers and property thereon at the time the map was compiled.

In Fee - means the tenant has purchased the title to the land from the landlord and has no (further) obligations to the former landlord.

RDC - Rural District Council; Leixlip was part of Celbridge No.1 RDC, which was empowered to provide houses for farm labourers.

The Valuation figure in £ was the notional annual rent which would be paid to rent the property in or about 1840, if the property was unencumbered. It was the basis of local taxation ('Rates') for residences and remains the basis for local taxes on commercial and industrial premises.

2.4 (statute) acres is approximately one hectare (=100m x 100m).

This data base was transcribed by John Colgan in Microsoft Word for Office, using Times New Roman script, between February and June, 2003. It has not been edited. The reader is advised to check the original hard-copy of the record at the Archives Section of the Valuation Office, Dublin, after having located it here.
